The Judicial Branch Of Government

"The judicial power shall be vested in an integrated judicial department consisting of a supreme court, such intermediate appellate courts as may be provided by law, a superior court, such courts inferior to the superior court as may be provided by law, and justice courts."
Arizona Constitution, Article VI, Sec. 1

THE SUPREME COURT

The Arizona Supreme Court consists of five justices. The regular term of office is six years. The Supreme Court has administrative supervision over all the courts of the state and the Chief Justice has the authority to exercise that supervision. The jurisdiction of the Court is provided in Article VI, Section 5 of the Arizona Constitution and includes appellate jurisdiction, the issuance of extraordinary writs and the power to make rules relative to all procedural matters in any court. Decisions of the Court of Appeals may be reviewed at the discretion of the Supreme Court when a litigant files a Petition for Review.

In addition to law clerks and secretarial and clerical staff, the Court appoints the Administrative Director of the Courts, the Clerk of the Supreme Court and a central staff of attorneys. All employees serve at the pleasure of the Court.

COURT OF APPEALS

The Court of Appeals consists of two divisions. Division One, with nine judges, is located in Phoenix; and Division Two, with three judges, sits in Tucson. The Court has appellate jurisdiction to determine all matters properly appealed from the Superior Court. In criminal cases, however, where the sentence of death or life imprisonment has actually been imposed, the appeal is directly to the Arizona Supreme Court.

The geographical jurisdiction of Division One covers appeals from the Superior Courts in the counties of Maricopa, Yuma, Coconino, Yavapai, Mohave, Navajo and Apache. Division One also has statewide responsibility for reviewing decisions of the Industrial Commission and unemployment compensation appeals from the Department of Economic Security.

Division Two receives its cases from the Superior Courts in the counties of Pima, Pinal, Cochise, Santa Cruz, Greenlee, Graham and Gila.

SUPERIOR COURT

At the close of 1980, the Superior Court consisted of 81 judges sitting in 14 counties. The Superior Court is a trial court of general jurisdiction and is empowered to hear cases of equity and law which involve title to or possession of real property; civil cases where the claim for relief amounts to $2,500 or more; felony prosecutions and misdemeanors not otherwise provided for by law; probate matters; and cases involving dissolution or annulment of marriage. The Superior Court has concurrent jurisdiction with the Justice of the Peace Court over civil claims between $500 and $2,500.

Court commissioners may be appointed by the presiding judge of the Superior Court in counties with three or more judges to perform such duties as may be provided by law or Supreme Court rules. Commissioners usually determine matters where a default has been entered against a party and may also preside at the initial appearance of a defendant charged with a crime.

Each county has a Superior Court Clerk who is elected at the general election. The responsibilities of the Clerk's office are diversified and include the maintenance of official court case files, certification of documents, collection of fees, and issuance of summonses, subpoenas and marriage licenses.

Probation departments are also operated under the supervision of the Superior Court.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE AND MUNICIPAL COURTS

Statewide there are 84 Justices of the Peace sitting in the same number of precincts. These judges are elected at the general election by the voters in the precinct and the regular term of office is four years.

Municipal Courts are mandated by state law in each incorporated city or town. There are 74 such courts with 64 full-time and 53 part-time judges. Municipal judges are appointed by city or town councils.

These courts have jurisdiction to hear class 1, 2 and 3 misdemeanor cases. The Justice of the Peace may also conduct preliminary examinations on felony complaints. Municipal Courts are empowered to hear matters arising out of violations of city or town ordinances. Virtually all traffic violation cases are filed in the Justice of the Peace or Municipal Courts.

The Justice of the Peace Courts also have civil jurisdiction over lawsuits involving less than $2,500.

General Introduction

For the second year, detailed caseload, financial, and personnel information is presented by the Arizona Supreme Court in this separate volume, The Arizona Courts: 1980 Caseload, Financial and Personnel Report. This report provides both statewide summary and detailed individual court unit information. Its value as a supplement to the 1980 Annual Judicial Report is to persons and agencies who are interested in or involved with budgeting, planning and administration for the court systems within Arizona.

This is the third year in which caseload statistical data has been published in the same format. It is, therefore, possible for courts to use caseload information from this and previous reports to determine short-term trends in their caseloads. Such information is of value when budgets are considered and in order to plan for the future needs of the court system.

REPORT FORMAT

One new section, superior court probation, has been added in the 1980 edition of this report. The other sections of the report include: statewide summary information; appellate courts; superior courts; justice of the peace courts; municipal courts; and court receipts. For easy reference, each section is indicated by the appropriate heading on the upper outside corner of the page.

The following introductory sections have been included to facilitate a better understanding of the data presented herein. These general statements are intended only as an overview of the data presented. Particular attention should be paid to the narrative statements and definitions at the beginning of each section and the footnotes applicable to various statistics.

CASELOAD STATISTICS

The caseload statistics presented herein have been compiled from the monthly statistical reports submitted to the Supreme Court by the individual appellate, superior, justice of the peace, and municipal courts of the state and the superior court probation departments. Caseload statistics are included on an individual court basis for all courts of the state, on a county summary basis for each level of court, and on a statewide basis for each court level. Virtually all caseload data reported herein is complete. Incomplete or inconsistent information, where detected, has been appropriately footnoted. While the statistics are checked for mathematical correctness, they are unaudited.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The financial information published in this report is based upon the survey of county finance offices for superior, justice, and municipal courts conducted during October, 1980. The survey of superior and justice courts was made in conjunction with the National Center for State Courts Western Regional Office for their study of state financing of superior courts. Both the Supreme Court and National Center have worked to obtain the most complete and accurate information possible. The survey document used in 1980 requested more comprehensive and detailed information than preceding years. However, the financial data presented herein is unaudited and, therefore, is based upon the accuracy of the reporting counties and cities in the survey. An effort was made through the survey to identify all indirect costs of court operations, where the cost is not directly attributable to the individual court's budget. Such costs, where identified, have been included in the financial data presented.

The following definitions for the categories used in this report are presented here to provide a better understanding of the financial information.

DIRECT EXPENDITURES AND APPROPRIATIONS—those funds appropriated directly to the court by the immediate funding authority (appellate courts—state legislature; superior courts, justice courts—counties; municipal courts—cities/towns).

Salaries—amounts for salaries and wages of all personnel.

Fringe Benefits—amounts for employer's cost of FICA, insurance, retirement contributions, etc.

Operating Expenses—amounts for utilities, telephone, postage, insurance, rent, building maintenance, office supplies, and office equipment maintenance.

Travel and Transportation—amounts for personnel travel.

Professional Services—amounts for court reporter costs, juries, attorney fees for indigent defendants, and mental institution charges.

Capital Expenses—amounts for purchases of a value of over $100.

INDIRECT EXPENDITURES AND APPROPRIATIONS—those expenses attributable to the court included in other departments' or agencies' budgets.

Fringe Benefits—amounts for employer's cost of FICA, insurance, and retirement contributions not directly budgeted to the court.

Support Services—amounts for data processing, maintenance, accounting, payroll, law library, and building repair not directly budgeted to the court.

FEDERAL FUNDS—amounts received through such sources as C.E.T.A., federal revenue sharing, anti-recession funding, LEAA grants, Title IV child support, etc.

STATE FUNDS—amounts charged to state funds other than Supreme Court programs (state aid to probation and family counseling).

NON-BUDGETED SUPPORT SERVICES—amounts which may result in a charge to the state if the state were to assume funding.

PERSONNEL INFORMATION

The personnel information contained in this report is based upon a survey of the staffing levels of the Arizona judiciary on October 1, 1980. Like the financial report, this survey was undertaken in conjunction with the National Center for State Courts in the superior and justice courts. Because of the vast number of job titles encountered both within and between the different levels of courts, broad general position groupings were developed to publish the information in a reportable format. Personnel category definitions which detail the various types of positions included within each grouping are included at the beginning of each court section of this report.

Statewide Summary Information

The following tables reflect the caseload, financial and personnel information of the Arizona Judiciary, summarized on a statewide basis. Caseload statistics are presented on a summary basis by court level, while the financial and personnel information presented is summarized on a statewide, all courts basis. These statewide summary tables also appear at the beginning of their appropriate sections of the report, along with narrative analyses and explanations of the data presented.

Statewide Personnel Information

The table below reflects a statewide summary of all court personnel as of October 1, 1980. This information was reported by the individual courts in response to a personnel survey conducted by the Supreme Court. Personnel information for individual courts can be found in the appropriate court level section of this Report.

The 1980 survey attempted to obtain the most accurate information regarding the staffing levels of the various courts throughout Arizona. Therefore, personnel have been identified as being full-time (F.T.) or part-time (P.T.) employees in the table below.

The superior court employs approximately 70% of the full-time and 54% of the part-time court personnel within the Arizona judiciary. Both justice and municipal courts employ 12.5% of the full-time court workers while appellate courts (Supreme Court and Court of Appeals) presently account for 5% of the workforce.

Statewide Judicial Expenditures

The financial information shown below reflects costs of the Arizona Judiciary as identified by the financial survey of the courts for fiscal year 1979–80. This information represents a summarization of statewide financial tables of the various levels of courts reported in later sections. Financial information for individual court units can be found in the appropriate court level section of this Report.

In 1979–80, the superior court accounted for 72.3% of the expenditures made for court services in Arizona. Municipal courts reported that they expended 12.1% of the court appropriations while justice courts comprised 8.6% of the total. Appellate courts in the state accounted for 7% of the statewide expenditure. The greatest burden for funding courts in Arizona fell upon the counties with 71.1% of all judicial expenditures made statewide falling upon that source. State funds were nearly equal to local city funds for courts with the state supporting 12.3% of the statewide total while local funds supported 12.1%. Federal funding provided 4.5% of the identified statewide judicial expenditures in 1979–80.

Statewide Financial Information
All Courts

The table below represents the specific line item expenditures for fiscal year 1979–80 and budgeted amounts for fiscal year 1980–81. This information was totaled from the Supreme Court's financial survey of Arizona courts, which includes the following entities: Supreme Court, court of appeals, superior court (including clerks of the court, adult and juvenile probation departments), justice of the peace courts, and municipal courts. Definitions concerning the types of expenditures included in the categories listed in the table can be found in the General Introduction on page 5.

Statewide financial information for individual court levels is available in the remaining sections of this report.

The two largest individual categories of expenditures within the Arizona judiciary are salaries and fringe benefits. Professional services which include such items as jury fees and attorneys' fees for indigents represent the second largest expenditure category.

CASE ACTIVITY

Case filings in the Supreme Court increased from 1,000 matters in 1979 to 1,051 matters in 1980. The Court also continued to transfer in cases from the Court of Appeals. The Court was able to meet its workload by terminating 1,110 matters during the year. The total cases pending at year end increased slightly by 30 cases from 151 pending in 1979 to 181 pending in 1980.

As shown in the pie chart, petitions for review constitute the largest percentage of the total number of matters filed in the Court (53.2%) during 1980. The remainder of the Court's caseload is divided among special actions, criminal, state bar, and other matters.

The overall trend of case filings in the Supreme Court appears to have stabilized during the most recent three years. However, minor fluctuations occurred in specific case categories within the total caseload in 1980. State Bar disciplinary matters showed the largest change by increasing 86% from 56 cases in 1979 to 104 cases in 1980.

Several categories also showed decreases in 1980. The largest reduction occurred in the petitions for review category which decreased 16%. In this large classification, this percentage decrease represents a loss of 109 cases comparing 1979 with 1980. Habeas corpus and civil matters also showed slight declines during the year.

The Supreme Court transferred 89 cases, primarily civil and criminal actions, from the Court of Appeals, Division One, to its own calendar. In the past five years, the Supreme Court has accepted transfer of an average of 112 cases per year. This transfer of cases has been deemed necessary to assist the Court of Appeals with their increasing caseload backlog.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Financial administration of the Supreme Court's operating budget is the responsibility of the Office of the Administrative Director. In addition, the Administrative Director's office fiscally administers state appropriations to provide for:

- Medical Malpractice Review Panels
- Commission on Appellate and Trial Court Appointments
- Commission on Judicial Qualifications
- State Grand Jury expenses
- Family Counseling programs
- State Aid for Probation services
- Foster Care Review Boards

Court of Appeals—Division One

CASE ACTIVITY

During 1980, Division One responded to a record number of case filings by terminating the second largest number of cases in its history. Despite this action, cases pending at year end reached the highest number in the court's 16-year history.

Overall, filings in the court jumped 7% in 1980 over the 1979 level, rising from 1,411 to 1,510 cases. One significant reason for the increase in filings was that during 1980 the court received the full impact of the shifting of unemployment insurance appeals from the superior court. New legislation enacted in 1979 provided for direct appeal from the State Department of Economic Security to the court. In 1980, 144 such cases were filed in the court. As shown in the trend analysis, page 25, unemployment insurance cases made up 9.5% of the total new caseload. Thus, a significant portion of the increase in caseload is a direct result of this new category.

Another area in which the court is experiencing sizable growth is in civil cases. In the most recent six years, civil filings have risen 71% from 314 cases filed in 1975 to 537 cases filed in 1980. There has been an average increase in civil case filings of 9% each year since 1973 which appears likely to continue into the future.

In contrast to the rise in civil filings during the past six years, criminal case filings in Division One have decreased slightly each year. For example, in 1980, a total of 592 criminal matters were filed with the court, which is a decrease of 8.5% compared with the 647 criminal filings in 1979. Since 1976, criminal filings have decreased an average of 4% each year.

Termination of cases reached near-record proportions during 1980. The Supreme Court accepted transfer of a total of 91 matters from Division One to assist in reducing the Court of Appeals workload. However, with the influx of the new unemployment insurance matters, terminations in nearly all of the other individual categories such as civil and criminal cases suffered during 1980. For example, it was possible for the court to terminate (including transfers to the Supreme Court) a total of 581 criminal cases in 1979. In 1980, however, the court was able to close only 528 criminal matters for a decrease of 9% from the previous year. This trend was repeated in all other case categories except for juvenile appeals, in which terminations increased from 21 closures in 1979 to 46 closures in 1980.

Of particular concern when looking at these termination statistics is the court's ability to meet its growing civil caseload. For example, the pending civil caseload increased 15% between the end of 1979 and the end of 1980. By virtue of the criminal laws, court rules, and other factors, civil appeals carry the lowest priority in terms of court processing. This results in civil cases generally having the greatest lag time of any type case between the time of filing the appeal and resolution by the court. Therefore, the termination rate of civil cases declines and the civil pending case backlog grows.

The court is concerned with the growing backlog of cases and is particularly aware of the need to increase resources in order to provide civil litigants with timely resolutions of their appeals.

As shown in the Total Filing and Termination Activity chart and graph, the year-end pending total for the court grew 9% from 1,181 cases in 1979 to 1,289 cases in 1980. Noting the total number of matters which the court can presently terminate in a year (in 1980 the court actually closed 1,311 cases), it would take the court approximately a year to clear this caseload (1,289 cases) if no new matters were filed.

In 1981, legislation will again be introduced to establish a fourth panel of judges in Division One to address this critical caseload problem. The Arizona Judicial Coordinating Committee in its 1981 Plan endorsed the creation of the fourth panel "to handle not only the existing pending caseload, but . . . to cope with the continued increase in appeals which has occurred in recent years and which is projected to escalate even further in coming years."

TREND ANALYSIS

Two significant trends have been experienced by the Court of Appeals, Division One. First, since 1975, the court has seen a change in the type of caseload which it must handle. Second, the growth in overall case filings has continued virtually every year since the court's formation in 1965.

As shown in the pie charts to the right, the percentage of civil cases in the total caseload has increased from 26.5% in 1975 to 35.6% in 1980. This percentage increase results from 314 civil cases having been filed in 1975 versus 537 civil cases filed in 1980. During the same period, the number of criminal cases filed each year has decreased (692 criminal cases filed in 1975 versus 537 filed in 1980). Therefore, while other types of case filings have increased, the percentage of criminal cases in the total court caseload has decreased from 58.4% to 39.2%.

Last year, a linear regression "trend" analysis was included in this report for the first time. Using that statistical test, it was projected that the court would receive 1,568 filings in 1980. The court actually received 1,510 filings, which translates into an error of only 3.7% for the estimate.

The table and graph shown below represent the current trend analysis which tests the strength of the relationship or "correlation" between "years" and the number of "filings" received by the court.

The strong correlation coefficient .963 (a perfect correlation is 1.0) indicates that it is likely that filings will increase to 1,642 filings in 1981 and 2,018 filings per year by 1985.

CRIMINAL CASE ACTIVITY

Court of Appeals—Division Two

CASE ACTIVITY

The total number of case filings in Division Two of the Court of Appeals rebounded to near-record levels during 1980. After a one-year decline to 588 filings in 1979, the court received 702 new matters in 1980, a 19.4% increase. However, for only the third time in the past ten years, the total number of cases terminated by the court decreased from the previous year. During 1979, the court terminated 701 matters while in 1980 the court closed 632 matters. As a result, the court's year-end pending caseload increased from 218 cases in 1979 to 288 cases in 1980. This pending total is still below the court's highest pending count of 331 cases reached at the close of 1978.

Increases in filings occurred in all case categories within the court during 1980. For example, criminal matters increased 22% from 230 filed in 1979 to 280 filed in 1980. Similarly, special actions grew from 141 cases filed in 1979 to 166 cases in 1980.

The termination of special actions increased by 25% in 1980 compared to the previous year. Similarly, post-conviction relief closures increased from 14 cases terminated in 1979 to 23 cases terminated in 1980. Civil terminations declined slightly in 1980 from 213 cases in 1979 to 188 cases in 1980. The court also had a decrease in the termination of criminal cases from 325 cases disposed in 1979 to 231 cases disposed in 1980. The year-end pending total in 1980 increased approximately 32% over the 1979 level. However, the 1980 year-end pending count of 288 cases remains below the previous four-year average of 295 matters pending at year end.

CASELOAD STATISTICS

Introduction

The caseload statistics contained on the following pages are based on the case activity data reported monthly by each superior court to the Arizona Supreme Court. The statistics are presented on both an individual county basis and a statewide summary basis—by county and by case type. Although most court caseload statistics reported herein are complete, some statistical information was not available for reporting purposes. Such omissions are footnoted on the applicable tables.

This 1980 report represents the third year in which the current statistical reporting forms have been used by the Supreme Court for the superior court. The use of these forms has resulted in more uniform and detailed caseload data. This consistency in the data makes it possible in the following section on caseload activity to analyze the recent trends of caseloads in the superior court.

The Supreme Court instituted the reporting of probation department statistics during 1980 by the 14 counties in Arizona. This caseload information is presented in a separate superior court probation section. Both superior court and superior court probation have reported statistics on the disposition of criminal defendants who were found guilty. Differences exist between these two reports because superior court probation statistics are based upon offenders who were referred to probation departments for pre-sentence investigations. Since all offenders are not referred for pre-sentence investigations, court dispositions reflect a greater number of defendants sentenced.

The case activity tables on the following pages contain categories entitled "transferred in" and "transferred out". Although these categories are included primarily to report the actual transfer of cases or defendants between counties, the categories may also be employed to accomplish statistical adjustments of discovered reporting inaccuracies. These inaccuracies are usually detected during physical inventories of pending caseloads by court personnel. In instances where physical inventory adjustments are made, the adjustments have been published as reported and appropriately footnoted.

The only major omissions in the 1980 caseload statistics are the adoption and juvenile dependency statistics from Maricopa County. Due to the size of Maricopa County's caseload, these omissions have a significant impact upon these statistical categories.

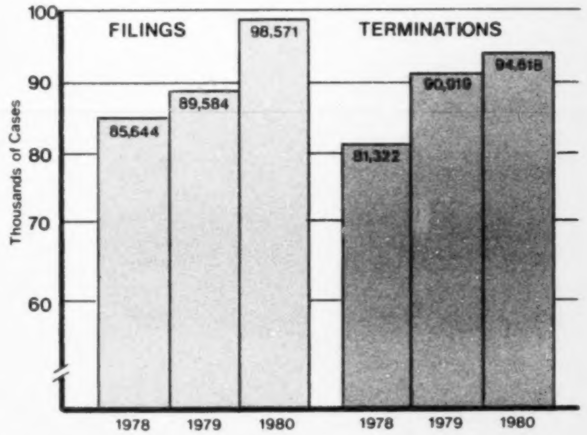
1980 Caseload Activity

The superior court reported sizeable growth in filings in 1980. Total filings throughout the state increased 10% from 89,584 filings in 1979 to 98,571 filings in 1980. Concurrently, the superior court was able to increase the total number of terminations of matters by only 4% from 90,919 cases in 1979 to 94,618 cases in 1980. Therefore, due to the substantial rise in filings, the court's year-end pending caseload increased from 88,145 matters in 1979 to 94,596 matters in 1980 for a percentage increase of 7.3%. These figures do not even take into account the various pre- and post-judgment matters that are also processed by the superior court which are reported on page 45.

As mentioned previously, 1980 is the third year in which superior court caseload statistics have been collected in their current form. Therefore, short-term trends, such as those illustrated in the bar graphs can be shown. Filings have increased greatly during the three-year period. The 1980 total filing figure of 98,571 cases represents a 15% growth in filing activity in three years. Moreover, there has been a 16.3% rise in the overall number of terminations in three years from 81,322 terminations in 1978 to 94,618 terminations in 1980. It should be noted that during this time period, only five new judgeships were created in the state for an increase of 6.6% in the available judicial workforce.

Statewide statistics reflect a 22% surge in criminal filings during 1980 compared with 1979 (13,002 filings in 1979 versus 15,865 filings in 1980). Concurrently, the court was able to expand the number of terminations from 12,711 cases in 1979 to 14,490 cases in 1980, an increase of 14%. The rapid increase in filings, therefore, resulted in a 24% rise in pending matters at year end.

SUPERIOR COURT FILINGS AND TERMINATIONS FROM 1978 TO 1980



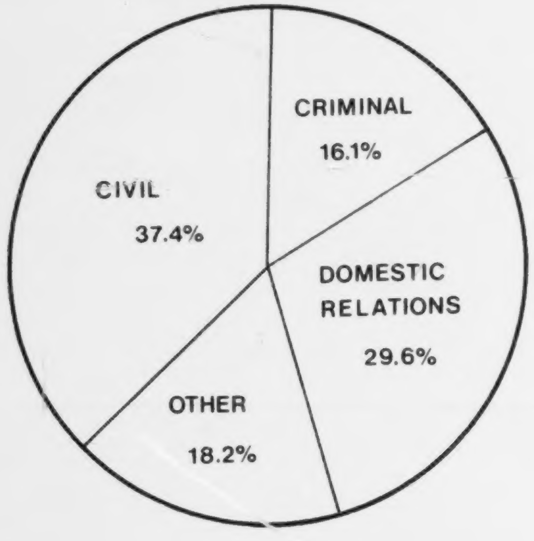
Even more significant in terms of case volume was the 13.6% growth of civil filings from 32,417 matters in 1979 to 36,830 matters in 1980. The court terminated a total of 34,452 cases in 1980 which was a 12% increase over the 30,758 cases closed in 1979. The year-end pending caseload, therefore, increased 9.3% to 35,237 cases in 1980. Even at the 1980 record level of civil case terminations, pending cases continued to grow at a significant rate.

In 1980, domestic relations case filings rose at a rate of 5% from the previous year (26,551 filings in 1979 versus 27,899 filings in 1980). Terminations, however, decreased marginally from 27,049 matters in 1979 to 26,794 matters in 1980. This resulted in an increase in year-end pending of 11.8% from the previous year.

During 1980, a major inventory adjustment of 1,211 matters was made regarding reciprocal support filing activity primarily by Pima County. This inventory adjustment, as reflected in the cases transferred in category, was the result of a clarification in the manner in which Pima County recorded these statistics. Overall, however, reciprocal support activity remained largely unchanged from the previous year.

Due to the inherent length of their processing time, probate matters continued to increase in the year-end pending category from 25,489 matters in 1979 to 26,820 matters in 1980. Total terminations accounted for only 6,950 matters during the year. Therefore, there were nearly four probate cases pending for every case terminated during the year.

SUPERIOR COURT
FILINGS - 1980



In total the superior court in Arizona handled a growing but widely diverse caseload during 1980. As shown in the pie chart, the largest category of cases filed with the court are civil matters which represent over one-third of all cases filed with the court. Domestic relations matters constitute the second largest case category with 29.6% of the total caseload. Criminal matters comprised 16.1% of the filings, while the remaining types of cases represent the final 18.2% of case filings in the court.

Caseload Statistical Definitions

The following definitions are included to afford the reader a better understanding of what the statistical data reported represents. Civil, domestic relations and all other non-criminal statistics reflect the number of cases. Criminal statistics reflect the number of defendants named in complaints, informations and/or indictments.

Case Categories

CIVIL—Tort Motor Vehicle, Tort Non-Motor, Medical Malpractice, Contract, Eminent Domain, Lower Court Civil Appeals and Non-Classified Civil cases.

DOMESTIC RELATIONS—Paternity, Maternity, Dissolution, Annulment, Legal Separation, County Attorney Petitions to Establish Support, and Other Custody Proceedings.

PROBATE—Estate Probate, Trust Adminstration, Guardianship and Conservatorship cases.

ADOPTION—Petitions for the adoption of a minor.

JUVENILE DEPENDENCY—Petitions to declare a juvenile to be a dependent or neglected child.

FELONY—Defendants in criminal cases who are charged with a felony. Criminal statistics in this report represent numbers of defendants, not cases.

MISDEMEANOR—Defendants in criminal cases who are charged with a misdemeanor offense.

UNCLASSIFIED—Defendants in criminal cases that are charged with an offense which does not come under any of the other criminal case categories listed, e.g., peace bond complaints.

LOWER COURT APPEAL—The number of civil cases appealed, or defendants in criminal cases who appeal a decision rendered in a city court or a justice of the peace court.

TRIAL DE NOVO—A new trial as a result of a lower court appeal in which the entire case is retried.

ON THE RECORD—An appeal of a lower court decision, in which legal issues are reviewed by inspection and examination of the record of the lower court proceedings.

Case Activity

CASES TRANSFERRED IN—The number of cases, or defendants in criminal cases, transferred in from superior courts of other counties. Cases in which a motion for a new trial has been granted or a remand from an appellate court has been ordered are also included in this category, as well as statistical adjustments to correct discovered inaccuracies.

WITH PLEA—The number of defendants in criminal cases who enter a plea of guilty or nolo contendere prior to the commencement of a trial.

TRIAL IN PROCESS—The number of cases (defendants in criminal cases) terminated during, but prior to the completion of, a trial. For purposes of this report, a trial commences when the first witness is sworn.

COURT TRIAL—The number of cases (defendants in criminal cases) terminated following the completion of a trial without a jury.

JURY TRIAL—The number of cases (defendants in criminal cases) terminated following the completion of a jury trial.

AFFIRMED—Superior court ruling on a lower court appeal on the record in which the decision of the lower court is upheld.

REVERSED—Superior court ruling on a lower court appeal on the record in which the decision of the lower court is reversed.

ARBITRATION—The number of civil cases terminated by arbitration, pursuant to Arizona Revised Statutes §12–133. Arbitration cases that are appealed to the court are not included in this termination category.

MEDICAL MALPRACTICE PANELS—The number of civil medical malpractice cases concluded by medical liability review panels. Cases in which the parties proceed with court litigation are not included in this category.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The financial information contained in this section of the report is based upon a detailed survey solicited from the 14 county finance officers and, in some cases, from the superior courts themselves. Statewide superior court summary information is contained in two tables in the following section, which separates actual expenditures made during fiscal year 1979–80 from the budgeted amounts appropriated for courts for fiscal year 1980–81. An effort was made to present fiscal information on the superior court itself, and the clerk of the court, adult probation, and juvenile probation departments as separate financial units. However, Apache County appropriates monies for the court and probation departments as a single unit which cannot accurately be separated. Further, in those counties which do not have separate adult and juvenile probation departments, the figures for the combined probation departments have been included under the adult probation heading.

Included in the General Introduction to this section on caseload, financial and personnel information on page 5. is a brief explanation regarding the overall financial information contained in the report and definitions as to what the financial categories presented include. Particular attention should be paid to footnotes applicable to the financial information presented herein.

PERSONNEL INFORMATION

The personnel information presented herein is based on responses received to a personnel survey conducted by the Arizona Supreme Court.

As a result of the variety and vast number of job titles encountered in compiling this information, broad general position groupings were developed. In four counties, adult and juvenile probation services are combined in a single probation department. In these instances, all related personnel are reported under Adult Probation. In the following personnel summary charts, full-time positions are referred to as F.T. and part-time positions as P.T.

Superior Court Probation

The information contained in this section of the Report is based on monthly reports submitted by the superior court probation departments throughout the state to the Arizona Supreme Court. Adult probation activity and disposition statistics along with juvenile referral, probation, and disposition statistics are provided on an individual county superior court basis.

PROBATION ACTIVITY, 1980

Juvenile

During 1980 the juvenile probation departments received a total of 34,489 referrals on juveniles alleged to be delinquent. An additional 4,534 referrals were received on juveniles alleged to be incorrigible. Statewide 2,532 juveniles were admitted to probation; 600 juveniles were admitted to probation with a condition that they provide restitution; 782 juveniles were continued on an existing grant of probation; 565 juveniles were committed to the State Department of Corrections; and 1,270 juveniles were not placed by the juvenile court but were required to provide public work service, pay restitution, or pay a penalty.

On December 31, 1980, the juvenile probation departments in the state were supervising 3,504 juveniles who had been adjudicated by the juvenile court for either delinquent or incorrigible acts.

During 1980, 9,142 juveniles were admitted to detention facilities in the state. Of this total, 13% (1,194) were held for more than 11 days prior to their adjudication. Juveniles supervised by probation departments during 1980 contributed $196,562 in restitution and penalties as well as 18,825 hours in public work service.

Adult

In 1980, 8,219 adult offenders were referred to probation departments for pre-sentence contact. The superior court placed 72.4% (5,953) of these offenders on supervised probation. This figure includes 65 offenders who were already on probation and received an additional grant of probation. Over half (54.7%) of all offenders admitted to probation were required to spend time in the county jail while nearly three-fourths (74.4%) of all offenders admitted to probation in 1980 were required to provide restitution and to pay fines.

In addition to those offenders placed on probation by the superior court, 1,715 were committed to the State Department of corrections; 213 were sentenced to county jails; 183 were sentenced to county jail and ordered to pay restitution and fines; 99 were required to pay restitution and fines only; and 20 were placed on unsupervised probation.

During 1980 a total of 16,782 adults were supervised by probation departments. This group provided in excess of $1.5 million in restitution and fines to the community and 38,612 hours of public work service. Within this group, 1,082 adults who received services from the State Aid to Probation Programs in 10 counties paid $67,236 in fines, reimbursement, and restitution during 1980 and contributed 6,765 hours of public work service. Only 3.5% (588) of the total probationers supervised during the year had all grants of probation revoked.

Adult probation departments experienced a 9.9% increase in their caseloads between December 31, 1979 (10,894) and December 31, 1980 (11,969).

In addition to the adult offender statistics supplied to the Supreme Court by the probation departments, the superior court provides sentencing information to the Supreme Court. Since not all offenders sentenced by the superior court are referred to probation departments prior to sentencing, the number of offenders actually sentenced to state prison or county jail and not placed on probation may be greater than the number reported by the probation departments.

The Pima County Adult Probation Department provides probation services on a contractual basis to the Tucson Municipal Court and limited services to the county justice courts. On December 31, 1980, this lower court probation caseload consisted of 1,070 persons. This probation unit provided 260 pre-sentence reports to the municipal and justice courts during 1980. Since the Pima County Adult Probation Department is the only department in the state which reports probation statistical information for the municipal and justice courts, this information has not been included in the statistical tables.

State Aid Programs

During 1980, 10 counties participated in the State Aid to Probation Program provided for in A.R.S. §§12–261 through 12–265. The following state aid table provides a breakdown by county of the number of offenders, both adult and juvenile, who received services through these programs and the number revoked from probation while in the program.

EXPLANATION OF CHARTS

Juvenile

The Juvenile Referrals Report shows the number of referrals that were pending at the beginning of 1980, those filed during 1980, and the disposition of referrals during the year. The referrals shown transferred to another jurisdiction during the year were transferred to another county for actual disposition or termination. The information is subdivided into three categories: sex, age, and most serious offense.

The Juvenile Detention Report indicates the total number of juveniles that were admitted to detention facilities within the state during 1980, and held according to provisions of Rule 3 of the Supreme Court Rules and Procedures for the Juvenile Court. It also indicates the total number of juveniles that were held in detention facilities 11 days or more while in pre-adjudication status.

Actual dispositions of juveniles adjudicated for either a delinquent or an incorrigible offense are reflected in two charts, Disposition of Adjudicated Juveniles by Offense and Disposition of Adjudicated Juveniles by Sex and Age.

The Juvenile Delinquency Petition Report gives a county-by-county account of the number of juveniles with delinquency petitions pending, filed, or terminated during the year.

The juvenile caseload flow for each county is reflected in the Juvenile Probation Activity Report by County. This chart shows the number of juveniles who were being supervised at the first of the year and those added to the caseload during the year. It then indicates those removed from the caseload and concludes with number of youths on probation at year's end.

The Individual County Juvenile Pre-disposition Reports and Collections chart indicates the number of juvenile pre-disposition reports filed in each county as well as the total amount of restitution, reimbursement, and penalties collected and the number of public service work hours completed.

Adult

The Adult Probation Activity Report includes statewide statistical information showing the caseload flow and offense category of probationers assigned to the superior court adult probation departments. A portion of this report deals with the number of pre-sentence reports prepared. Pre-sentence reports done on recidivists (those offenders already on probation and awaiting sentencing on a new charge) are not included in this figure.

Sentencing information for adult offenders referred to probation departments for pre-sentence contact during 1980 is shown in the Disposition of Adult Offenders Referred to Probation Departments chart. It includes the age of the offenders at the time of sentencing, the type of crime for which they were sentenced, and whether the offense was a felony or a misdemeanor. Offenders convicted on multiple charges are reported under the most severe sentence that was imposed, and the offender is counted only once.

The Offense and Age Characteristics of Probationers Revoked from Probation and Sentenced to State Prison or County Jail chart provides information on offenders who were revoked from probation and sentenced either to state prison or the county jail during 1980. Information is provided as to the age of the offender at the time the revocation took place and the nature of the offense for which the offender was originally placed on probation. There are 17 more offenders reported revoked on this report than on the Adult Probation Activity Report. This may mean that these 17 offenders had more than one probation case pending and not all these cases were terminated when the offenders were sentenced to county jail or prison.

Also included is a chart which indicates the total amount of money collected from probationers in each county for fines, reimbursement, and restitution, and the total number of hours provided in public work service.

Justice of the Peace Courts

CASELOAD STATISTICS

General

The caseload statistics contained in this section are based on the monthly statistical reports submitted to the Supreme Court by the justice courts. As with the superior court caseload statistics, this is the third year in which justice court statistics have been reported in the current format. However, there was a change in the traffic reports for the justice courts. Beginning in 1980, failure to appear complaint filings and dispositions were collected.

During 1980, three courts did not report complete or adequate statistics for the year, and thus the statewide totals reported hereafter do not include figures for Snowflake, St. Johns, and Quartzsite precincts. Quartzsite precinct performed an inventory of their caseload during October, 1980, and as a result of that action, it is possible to report year-end pending numbers for that court.

The monthly statistical report forms and caseload statistical tables in this report include categories entitled "transferred in" and "transferred out". Although these categories are included primarily to report the actual transfer of cases or defendants between courts, the categories may also be employed to make statistical adjustments of discovered reporting inaccuracies. Such inaccuracies are usually detected either during physical inventories of pending caseloads by court personnel or by staff of the Administrative Director's office during routine monitoring of the monthly reports.

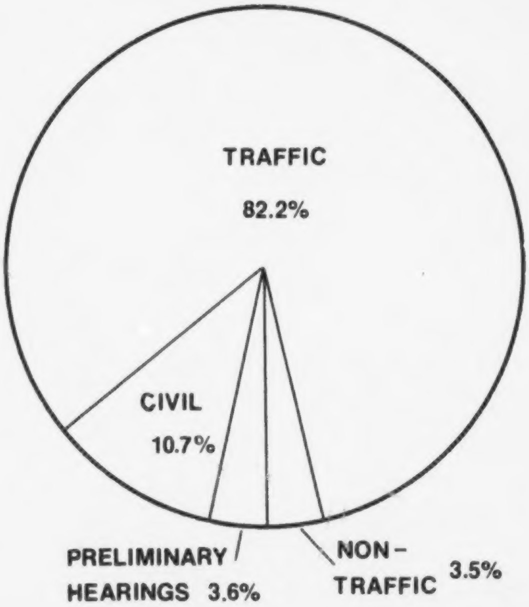
In most instances where physical inventory adjustments have been made, the adjustments have been published in the same form in which they were reported to this office and footnoted appropriately. For some courts, physical inventories of pending caseloads resulted in statistical adjustments being made in both the transferred in and transferred out categories within the same case category. Where possible, such adjustments have been offset against each other, with the offsetting difference reported either as transferred in or transferred out.

1980 Caseload Activity

During 1980, overall case filings grew at a rate of 33.6% from a total of 371,515 filings in 1979 to 496,528 filings in the recently completed year. Terminations similarly increased from 348,663 closures in 1979 to 455,993 closures in 1980, a 30.8% increase. As a result of the considerable growth of filings, the total number of defendants in cases pending at the end of the year increased 58.2% from 119,981 cases pending in 1979 to 189,852 cases pending in 1980. One reason for the large increase in filings and cases pending is that the Supreme Court required the justice courts to report failure to appear citations for the first time during 1980. Therefore, the majority of the 32,504 cases transferred in are a result of courts adding the failure to appear matters which were previously not counted.

As shown in the pie chart, the great majority of filings (82.2%) in justice courts relate to defendants in misdemeanor traffic complaints. Civil cases comprise 10.7% of the filings in the court while preliminary hearings (3.6%) and non-traffic misdemeanor cases (3.5%) constitute the remainder of the filings.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
COURT FILINGS - 1980



Traffic matters (due in part to the addition of failure to appear complaints) showed the largest increase of all case categories in 1980. Traffic filings increased 42% from 287,292 filings in 1979 to 407,987 filings in 1980. Terminations statewide also increased in 1980 to 370,615 dispositions which was an increase of 39% over the 266,595 dispositions reported in 1979. Year-end pending statistics were greatly affected by the addition of failure to appear complaints. Year-end pending statistics rose 79% from 81,109 cases in 1979 to 145,184 in 1980. Of the total number of traffic defendants pending at the end of 1980, 45,457 were reported to be pending with warrants issued.

Justice court civil filings statewide in 1980 totaled 52,979, an increase of 17.7% over the 1979 reported filing level of 45,003. Civil dispositions changed slightly from the previous year rising from 46,988 terminations in 1979 to 47,750 terminations in 1980, or a change of 1.6%. The pending civil caseload at the end of 1980 reflected an increase of 27.5% over the previous year (24,345 pending in 1979 to 31,050 pending at the end of 1980).

Non-traffic misdemeanor filings declined 28.3% during the two years. However, terminations decreased only 2.8% from 21,081 closures in 1979 to 20,491 closures in 1980. As a result, the year-end pending backlog of cases decreased 19.1% from 10,693 matters in 1979 to 8,646 matters, in 1980. Of the 8,646 non-traffic misdemeanor defendants reported pending at the end of 1980, 3,311 were reported as pending with warrants issued.

The number of defendants with felony complaints filed statewide in 1980 increased 21.8% from 14,865 filings in 1979 to 18,098 filings in 1980. Terminations increased from 13,999 closures in 1979 to 17,137 closures in 1980, or an increase of 22.4%. However, not all closures were the result of a preliminary hearing. A total of 3,251 matters were transferred to a grand jury for hearing during the year and 3,694 defendants waived their preliminary hearing.

Caseload Statistical Definitions

The following definitions are included to provide the reader with a better understanding of what the caseload statistical data represents. Civil statistics reflect the number of cases, while traffic and non-traffic misdemeanor, and preliminary hearing data represent the number of defendants named in complaints.

Case Categories

CIVIL—Prior to April 22, 1980, a lawsuit in which the claim was less than $1,000; after April 22, 1980, a lawsuit in which the claim is less than $2,500. Also included are forcible entry and detainer actions (recovery of leased or rented property), providing the rental value does not exceed $500 per month and damages sought are less than $1,000 (this portion of the jurisdiction was unchanged in 1980).

MISDEMEANOR—TRAFFIC—Includes traffic violations contained in Title 28 of the Arizona Revised Statutes including driving while intoxicated, reckless driving, and other moving violations. Traffic statistics also include all violations of Arizona Corporation Commission Motor Carrier Rules and Regulations.

MISDEMEANOR—NON-TRAFFIC—All other misdemeanors where the law provides for punishment that does not exceed six months incarceration and/or a fine up to $1,000.

PRELIMINARY HEARINGS—A hearing to determine whether or not the defendant should be held for trial in the superior court on a felony complaint.

Case Activity

TRANSFERRED IN—The number of defendants, or cases, transferred in from other justice of the peace precincts. Also includes statistical adjustments to correct discovered inaccuracies and inventory adjustments.

TRANSFERRED OUT—The number of defendants, or cases, transferred out to other precincts. Also includes statistical adjustments to correct discovered inaccuracies and inventory adjustments.

WITHOUT TRIAL—The number of cases terminated without a trial, including: dismissals by the judge, summary judgments, and dismissals by the plaintiff or by stipulation of the parties involved.

PLEA AND/OR BOND FORFEITURE—The number of defendants in cases terminated after the acceptance of a guilty or no contest plea to the original charge, and the number of defendants who forfeit a posted bond.

OUT OF JURISDICTION—For statistical reporting purposes only, includes the number of defendants believed to be physically outside the court's jurisdiction and no arrest warrant has been issued.

GRAND JURY—The number of defendants in felony indictments issued by a grand jury prior to the preliminary examination after the filing of a complaint in justice court.

EXAM WAIVED—The number of defendants who waive their right to a preliminary hearing and as a result are held for trial in the superior court.

HELD FOR SUPERIOR COURT—The number of defendants bound over to superior court for trial as a result of a preliminary hearing.

DEFENDANT DISCHARGED—The number of felony defendants dismissed either upon motion of the prosecution or as the result of a preliminary hearing.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The financial information contained in this section of the report is based upon a detailed financial survey solicited from the 14 county finance officers and, in some cases, from the justice courts themselves. Statewide justice court summary information is contained in the financial table in the following section, which separates actual expenditures made during fiscal year 1979–80 from the budgets appropriated for the courts for fiscal year 1980–81.

Included in the General Introduction to this section on caseload, financial and personnel information on page 5 is a brief explanation relative to the overall financial information contained in the report and definitions as to what the financial categories presented include. Particular attention should be paid to footnotes applicable to the financial information presented herein.

PERSONNEL INFORMATION

The following position titles are included in the "Administrative Staff" position grouping:

Administrative Assistant
Principal Administrative Assistant

The following position titles are included under the "Support Staff" category:

Municipal Courts

CASELOAD STATISTICS

General

The caseload statistics contained on the following pages are based on the monthly statistical reports submitted to the Supreme Court by the municipal courts. 1980 represents the third year that municipal court statistics have been available on a statewide basis to the Supreme Court. During the year two courts, St. Johns and Florence, did not submit complete statistics to the Supreme Court and, therefore, are not included in the caseload statistics.

In 1980 the Supreme Court required the municipal courts to begin counting "failure to appear" complaints issued against traffic offenders who did not appear for their assigned court date. A defendant with both a traffic complaint and a failure to appear complaint is counted in each of the respective categories.

The monthly statistical report forms and caseload statistical tables in this report include categories entitled "transferred in" and "transferred out." Although these categories are included primarily to report the actual transfer of cases or defendants between courts, the categories may also be employed to make statistical adjustments of discovered reporting inaccuracies. Such inaccuracies are usually detected either during physical inventories of pending caseloads by court personnel or by staff of the Administrative Director's office during routine monitoring of the monthly reports.

In most instances where physical inventory adjustments have been made, the adjustments have been reported to this office and footnoted appropriately. For some courts, physical inventories of pending caseloads resulted in statistical adjustments being made in both the transferred in and transferred out categories within the same case category. Where possible, such adjustments have been offset against each other, with the offsetting difference reported either as transferred in or transferred out.

1980 Caseload Activity

Statewide in calendar year 1980, there were 737,722 reported filings in municipal courts. This figure represents an increase of 27% over the 580,917 filings made in 1979. Municipal court terminations also increased during 1980 rising 8.4% from 606,484 closings in 1979 to 657,362 closings. At the end of 1980, there were 318,801 cases pending statewide in the municipal courts which represents an increase of 76% from the 181,243 cases pending at the end of 1979. The sizable increases in both filings and pending cases can be partially attributed to the addition of failure to appear complaints to the statistical reports. An example of this impact was shown in the number of cases transferred in, which increased from 523 matters in 1979 to 57,533 matters in 1980.

Traffic filings grew from 518,388 filings in 1979 to 657,866 filings in 1980 for an increase of 26.9%. Statewide traffic terminations also increased at a rate of 7.7% rising from 550,388 terminations in 1979 to 592,769 terminations in 1980. The number of traffic cases pending was greatly affected by the addition of failure to appear matters, increasing 75.5% between the two years (148,156 cases pending in 1979 to 259,954 cases pending in 1980). In 1980, of the 259,954 cases reported pending at the end of the year, 74,197 were reported as pending with warrants issued.

Case filings in non-traffic misdemeanors reflected similar increases. Statewide, non-traffic misdemeanors increased by 27.7% from 62,529 filed in 1979 to 79,856 filed in 1980. Terminations grew at a rate of 15.1% to 64,593 closures in 1980 compared to 56,096 terminations the previous year. The number of defendants in these cases pending at year end grew 77.9% from 33,087 in 1979 to 58,847 in 1980. There are 19,268 non-traffic misdemeanor defendants with warrants issued included in the 58,847 defendants pending at the end of 1980.

Caseload Statistical Definitions

The following statistical definitions are included to provide a better understanding of what the caseload data reported represents. The statistical data reflects the number of defendants named in complaints.

Case Categories

MISDEMEANOR—TRAFFIC—Includes traffic violations contained in Title 28 of the Arizona Revised Statutes, including driving while intoxicated, reckless driving while intoxicated, reckless driving, and other moving violations. (Traffic statistics for calendar year 1980 also include violations of Arizona Corporation Commission Motor Carrier Rules and Regulations.)

MISDEMEANOR—NON-TRAFFIC—All other misdemeanors where the law provides for punishment that does not exceed six months incarceration and/or a fine up to $1,000.

Case Activity

TRANSFERRED IN—The number of defendants transferred in from other municipal courts. Also includes statistical adjustments to correct discovered inaccuracies and inventory adjustment.

PLEA AND/OR BOND FORFEITURE—The number of defendants in cases terminated after the acceptance of a guilty or a no contest plea to original charge, and the number of defendants who forfeit a posted bond.

OUT OF JURISDICTION—For statistical reporting purposes only, includes the number of defendants believed to be physically outside the court's jurisdiction and no warrant has been issued for their arrest.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The municipal courts' financial information presented herein is based primarily on responses received from the municipal courts to a financial survey conducted by the Arizona Supreme Court. In some instances, the information was obtained from various city/town finance offices and budget documents obtained from the Arizona League of Cities and Towns. Where only total budget information was available, the figure was assigned to the salaries category due to the fact that the majority of expenditures by municipal courts are made for that item.

The General Introduction to this report on page 5 contains a brief section regarding the financial information presented in this report and definitions as to what the financial categories represent. Particular attention should be paid to the footnotes applicable to the financial data presented.

PERSONNEL INFORMATION

Municipal court personnel information reflected on the following pages is based on a personnel survey conducted by the Arizona Supreme Court.

Due to the vast number and variety of position titles that exist within the municipal courts statewide, the following general position groupings have been established for purposes of this report:

Judge
Administrative Staff
Secretarial/Clerical
Support Staff

Since there is no uniformity statewide in regard to position titles and corresponding job-related responsibilities, positions have been grouped together, for purposes of this report, only on the basis of position titles. The following definitions detail what positions are included in each grouping:

The "Judge" position grouping includes all judicial titles such as:

Chief Magistrate
Chief Presiding City Judge
Judge

The "Administrative Staff" position grouping includes the following titles:

Administrative Aide
Administrative Assistant
Clerk of Court
Court Administrator
Court Administrative Officer
Deputy Magistrate/Court Clerk

The "Support Staff" position grouping includes the following titles:

Accountant
Alcohol Therapist
Bailiff
Case Coordinator
Court Clerk Supervisor
Court Services Supervisor
D.W.I. Rehabilitation Supervisor
M.I.S. Coordinator

The "Secretarial/Clerical" position grouping includes the following titles:

Court Receipts

The following section lists the total amount of fines, fees, forfeitures and surcharges reported as collected by the various courts throughout the State of Arizona during fiscal year 1979–80. The amounts reported are unaudited.

Appellate court revenues consist primarily of filing fees. Fees are collected by the Supreme Court pursuant to Arizona Revised Statutes §§12-321 and 12-120.32 and by the Court of Appeals pursuant to A.R.S. §12-120.31. The Supreme Court also collects fees as authorized under A.R.S. §12-323 for lawyer admission certificates to the State Bar and for certified copies of records

The superior courts are authorized under A.R.S. §12-311 to assess various fees for civil actions taken, and pursuant to A.R.S. §§13-801 to -804 to collect criminal fines imposed by the courts. The clerk of the superior court is charged in A.R.S. §11-554 with the duty of collecting fees for the court and other related actions (marriage licenses, filing of papers, etc.). In several superior courts of the state, the probation departments collect graduated fines and submit such amounts to the clerk of the court.

Justices of the peace are empowered by A.R.S. §22-112 to set bail for traffic offenses and under A.R.S. §§22-281 and -282, to collect fees for civil actions in their court. Constables are entitled to collect fees in civil actions for serving summonses, levying and returning writs of attachment, and other services as provided by A.R.S. §11-445. A.R.S. §13-807 provides that all such amounts collected be remitted to the county treasurer.

Municipal courts, pursuant to A.R.S. §22-424, may set bail for traffic offenses. Fines collected by the municipal courts are remitted to the local municipality.

In addition to the court's authority to collect the fines and fees noted above, the state legislature has mandated that surcharges be imposed for particular offenses to support special programs. The Peace Officers' Training Fund (A.R.S. §§41-1825 and -1826) is supported by a 10% surcharge which is added to fines for all criminal convictions including violations of the Uniform Narcotic Drug Act, the Criminal Code Title 13, Motor Vehicle Code Title 28, Game and Fish Title 17, and municipal motor vehicle ordinances. The minimum surcharge assessed in each fine is set at $2. The Prosecuting Attorneys' Advisory Council Training Fund is supported by a 2% surcharge on all criminal offenses as provided by A.R.S. §41-1830.04. The minimum surcharge which can be assessed is $1. A.R.S. §36-142 prescribes that driving while intoxicated and Uniform Narcotic Drug Act convictions shall also be assessed an additional 15% surcharge for operation of drug and alcohol abuse programs by the Department of Health Services.

All surcharges, by statute, are to be remitted to the respective county or city treasurers who in turn forward the funds to the state treasurer.
